

Ashley Shepherd's music review

Artist: The Screaming Jets

Album: Do Ya

The Screaming Jets are probably one of the few Aussie pub bands still standing. They won triple J's battle of the bands in 1989.

This is their first album since 2002. "Do Ya" is a very listenable album with great vocals guitar work and the drumming isn't bad either. It is easy to understand what they singing about.

I found the album most enjoyable. Favourite tracks 1, 5 and 10.

I rate it 8 out 10. Available at Arcadia Records and Tapes
